

Partnership for Awareness ("PfA") is a nonprofit San Marino organization whose mission is to provide programs that support parents in raising healthy, thriving children from K-12. The partnership refers to the cooperative relationship between parents and schools, students and educators, and other community groups working together to stay current on critical issues.

Since 1979, PfA's diverse programs have educated parents and students on key issues including:

- Annual programs e.g. Red Ribbon Week: national campaign for awareness on substance abuse
- Student programs e.g. Rachel's Challenge: promoting compassion; "Bully for You", "I'm Stressed!"
- Parenting programs e.g. "Homework without Hassle", "Internet Safety", "The Teen Brain"
- Community-wide programs e.g. Wendy Mogul, nationally reknown author of Blessings of a Skinned Knee; Michael Thompson, author of NY Times best-seller Raising Cain addressed 500 people on "Creating an Environment in which Boys can Thrive" in Spring 2010; Ashley Merryman, co-author of NY Times best-seller NatureShock: New Thinking about Children gave a presentation in Spring 2011

Please look forward to the upcoming Michael Thompson lecture on November 21, 2011 at 7pm, "The Pressured Child: Helping your child find success in school and in life" in The Neher Theater, San Marino High School
